The Faculty Council on January 11, 1969, approved by the circularization procedure changes in the catalogue of the College of Fine Arts (D&P 4356).

This is a revision of Plan IIIC for students majoring in Drama Education, increasing the total number of semester hours required for the degree from 126 to 136, and more closely relating the degree in Drama Education to those given in the Art and Music Departments, and also meeting the changes made by the Texas Education Agency in degree requirements for prospective teachers.

The revised plan requires an additional nine hours of drama courses to give the student a foundation for professional work as well as preparing him for teaching. It also requires that a student take at least six hours of free electives outside of the drama field, thus broadening the scope of his education.
